Purpose of this framework

Summary of the purpose of the framework

There are 140,200 administrators in Wales that help to keep businesses running in the public, private and not-for-profit sectors (Statistics for Wales, June 2010 accurate as of February 2018)

Businesses face a number of challenges to replace those who leave or retire and to upskill the existing workforce. Amongst these challenges are:

- technological change – in particular the continuing growth of sophisticated IT solutions which are now considered to be essential to effective administration
- globalisation – in particular the growth of world-wide communications, trade and competition (which places a higher premium on language and cross-cultural skills) and the influx of immigrant workers
- an increasing net demand for skilled business and administration staff – although the overall size of the Business Administration workforce is shrinking, probably due to the impact of technology, there is a high replacement demand. Evidence suggests that between 2007 and 2017 there will be a net demand for up to 54,000 administrators in Wales
- skills shortages - many current business and administration vacancies are hard to fill, often because of skills shortages.

Administrators need a broad range of skills to work efficiently and to help increase business productivity. Skills shortages identified by organisations include a lack of office and administration skills, customer-handling skills, technical and practical skills, oral communication skills and IT skills, all of which are covered within the Business Administration Apprenticeship framework.

Business Administration Apprenticeships have been in the top ten Welsh apprenticeship frameworks for a number of years, with around 2,800 apprentices starting the apprenticeship every year in Wales. This apprenticeship builds on the success of its predecessor, by using employer led, up to date, flexible qualifications which meet the changing skills needs of employers. It builds in softer-skills such as communication, team working, interpersonal skills and the ability to reflect on their learning.

Foundation apprentices may work in roles such as administrators, office juniors, receptionists/medical receptionists, junior legal secretaries or junior medical secretaries.

Apprentices may work in roles such as administration executives/officers, administration team leaders, personal assistants and secretaries, including legal or medical secretaries.

Higher apprentices may work in roles such as office manager, administration team leader, personal assistant or business development executive.

Tasks undertaken by apprentices will vary depending on the level and sector in which they are employed. Tasks may include producing documents, preparing notes, organising and co-ordinating events and meetings, developing and delivering presentations, providing reception services, using office equipment, setting up and maintaining filing systems, using a variety of software packages, updating information and managing projects. At higher levels, tasks may include overseeing operational activities, implementing change within organisations, managing teams, monitoring risk and agreeing budgets.

The framework will also contribute to meeting the skills priorities in Wales by:

- providing flexible access to a high quality Level 2, 3 and 4 skills programme, for those who prefer this style of learning and achievement;
- incorporating skills to improve the levels of general literacy, numeracy and ICT/Digital Literacy in Wales;
- using technical and competence qualifications, valued by employers, to help their businesses grow;
- developing apprentices' employability skills, making them more attractive to all employers whichever career they choose;
- providing a career pathway into jobs and training to provide the skills which the economy needs to grow;

building on the existing quality learning provision for the business and administration sector in Wales.

Aims and objectives of this framework (Wales)

Entry conditions for this framework

There are no mandatory entry requirements for this apprenticeship framework. However employers are looking to attract applicants who have a keen interest in business and/or a particular interest in legal or medical administration careers. They expect applicants to demonstrate a "can do" attitude and have basic numeracy and literacy skills on which the apprenticeship will build.

Entrants will come from a diverse range of backgrounds and will come with a range of experience, age, personal achievements and, in some cases, prior qualifications and awards which may count towards the achievement of an apprenticeship programme. Examples include learners who have:

- held a position of responsibility at school or college; or
- undertaken work experience or a work placement; or
- completed the Duke of Edinburgh Award or similar award; or
- achieved GCSEs or A Levels; or
- achieved Regulatory Qualification Awards, Certificates or Diplomas; or
- completed a level 2 foundation apprenticeship from another sector (for level 3 apprenticeship applicants); or
- completed a level 3 apprenticeship from another sector (for higher apprenticeship applicants); or
- achieved a Business Administration and Finance Principal Learning Qualification as part of the Welsh Baccalaureate.

Apprentices who are undertaking the Business Administration Level 3 Apprenticeship are likely to have some prior experience in a business or administration role, although this is not a formal requirement. Apprentices who are undertaking the Business & Professional Administration Higher Apprenticeship are expected to have significant experience of working in a business role to ensure they have the suitable foundations on which to further build their knowledge and skills.

Rules to avoid repeating qualifications

Processes exist to make sure that applicants with prior knowledge, qualifications and experience are not disadvantaged by having to repeat learning. Training providers and awarding organisations will be able to advise on the current rules for accrediting prior learning and recognising prior experience.

1. Essential Skills Wales (ESW)

Foundation apprenticeships (Level 2):

Where Essential Skills qualifications are specified in a foundation apprenticeship framework (Level 2), the apprenticeship framework must specify as a Welsh certificate requirement, the acceptance of one of the following recognised proxy qualifications.

For Communication:

- GCSE or iGCSE qualification in English language or literature to at least grade G (Level 1 equivalent); or
- O Level qualification in English language or literature to at least grade E; or
- A/AS Level qualification in English language or literature to at least grade E; or
- SCQF Level 4 – Communication Core Skills (Oral communication and written communication); or
- SQA National 4 English; or
- Functional Skills or Key Skills literacy qualifications in English provided the proxy qualification(s) attained are at Level 1 or above.

For Application of Number:

- GCSE or iGCSE qualification in Mathematics to at least grade G (Level 1 equivalent); or
- O Level qualification in Mathematics to at least grade E; or
- A/AS Level qualification in Mathematics to at least grade E; or
- SCQF Level 4 – Numeracy Core Skill (Graphical Information and using number); or
- SQA National 4 Mathematics; or
- Functional Skills or Key Skills numeracy qualifications in Mathematics provided the proxy qualification(s) attained are at Level 1 or above.

Apprenticeships (Level 3):

Where Essential Skills qualifications are specified in an apprenticeship framework (Level 3), the apprenticeship framework must specify as a Welsh certificate requirement, the acceptance of one of the following recognised proxy qualifications.

For Communication:

- GCSE or iGCSE qualification in English language or literature to at least grade C (Level 2 equivalent); or
- O Level Qualification in English language or literature to at least grade C; or
- A/AS Level qualification in English or literature to at least grade E; or
- SCQF Level 5 – Communication Core Skills (Oral communication and written communication); or
- SQA National 5 English; or
- Functional Skills or Key Skills literacy qualifications in English provided the proxy qualification(s) attained is at Level 2 or above.

For Application of Number:

- GCSE or iGCSE qualification in Mathematics to at least grade C (Level 2 equivalent); or
- O Level Qualification in Mathematics to at least grade C; or
- A/AS Level qualification in Mathematics to at least grade E; or
- SCQF Level 5 – Numeracy Core Skill (Graphical information and using number); or
- SQA National 5 Mathematics; or
- Functional Skills or Key Skills numeracy qualifications in Mathematics provided the proxy qualification(s) attained are at Level 2 or above.

2. Qualifications

- If applicants have previously completed units that are within one of the combined qualifications, it is possible that this can count towards the total credits of the framework. It is necessary for your Awarding Body to verify all occurrences of the recognition of prior learning.

3. Prior experience

- Applicants already working in the sector are able to have their prior experience recognised by the Awarding Organisation and this will count towards the competence and the knowledge qualifications in this framework.

Initial Assessment

Training providers and employers will use initial assessment to ensure that applicants have a fair opportunity to demonstrate their ability and to tailor programmes to meet individual needs, recognising prior qualifications and experience.

Essential Skills

An apprenticeship framework must specify as a Welsh certificate requirement the expected achievement levels of Essential Skills in Communication and the Application of Number, and Digital Literacy (where required).

ESSENTIAL SKILL WALES

Communication	Min.Level 1
Application of Number	Min.Level 1
IT/Digital Literacy	Min.Level 1

For the current list of acceptable proxy qualifications and appropriate minimum grade/level requirements, please refer to the most recent version of SASW on the gov.wales website. Additional guidance materials can be found on the Knowledge Base section of the ACW website.

Progression routes into and from this pathway

Progression into the Business Administration Foundation Apprenticeship:

Progression into this apprenticeship may be from a wide number of routes due to the varying backgrounds and past academic and work related experiences of apprentices. Such routes will include having:

- achieved Regulatory Qualification Awards, Certificates or Diplomas
- achieved a Principal Learning Qualification as part of the Welsh Baccalaureate in Business Administration and Finance, Retail Business, ICT or Public Services
- achieved GCSEs or A Levels.

Learners may also progress into the foundation apprenticeship without prior qualifications.

Progression from the Business Administration Foundation Apprenticeship

Foundation apprentices, with support and opportunities in the workplace, can progress onto:

- the Level 3 Apprenticeship in Business Administration - general administrative, legal or medical pathways
- other level 3 apprenticeships such as customer service or management
- the Welsh Baccalaureate, including one of the Principal Learning Qualifications in a range of related sectors, such as business, administration and finance, information technology, public services and retail business
- further education to undertake management, business related or other qualifications.

With additional training, foundation apprentices may be able to progress in their careers to roles including administration executive, administration team leader, office supervisor, personal assistant, secretary or a wide range of other business and administration roles.

UCAS points for this pathway:

Employee rights and responsibilities

Please note that for Apprenticeship starts from 14/10/2016 onwards ERR is no longer a mandatory requirement in all frameworks.

However, it may still be included in some frameworks and where it is not explicitly stated that ERR is not a requirement then confirmation of an Apprentice's ERR achievement will still remain a requirement for Apprenticeship certification purposes.

Is ERR a requirement for this framework? YES NO

Delivery and assessment

The Employee Rights and Responsibilities component of the apprenticeship can be achieved through either:

1. A ERR Qualification/Unit:

- The L/506/1905 Employee rights and responsibilities unit - this is an optional unit included within the combined qualification
- The Level 2 Award in Employee Rights and Responsibilities - this qualification is offered by a range of organisations
- Any other approved unit or qualification listed in Instructus Skills FAQ (formerly Skills CFA)

2. ERR Workbook:

- The Instructus Skills (formerly Skills CFA) ERR workbook, available from the Instructus Skills E-learning portal (elearning.instructus.org) - The workbook has been designed to enable apprentices to work their way through a series of questions and activities which will bring ERR to life, making the learning more meaningful and long lasting and enhance the employability skills of the apprentice.

ERR National Outcomes

1. knows and understands the range of employer and employee statutory rights and responsibilities under Employment Law. This should cover the apprentice's rights and responsibilities under the Employment Rights Act 1996, Equality Act 2010, and Health and Safety legislation, together with the responsibilities and duties of employers;
2. knows and understands the procedures and documentation in their organisation which recognise and protect their relationship with their employer. Health & Safety and Equality & Diversity training must be an integral part of the apprentice's learning programme;
3. knows and understands the range of sources of information and advice available to them on their employment rights and responsibilities. Details of Access to Work and Additional Learning Support must be included in the programme

4. understands the role played by their occupation within their organisation and industry;
5. has an informed view of the types of career pathways that are open to them;
6. knows the types of representative bodies and understands their relevance to their skill, trade or occupation, and their main roles and responsibilities;
7. knows where and how to get information and advice on their industry, occupation, training and career;
8. can describe and work within their organisation's principles of conduct and codes of practice;
9. Recognises and can form a view on issues of public concern that affect their organisation and industry.

Evidence of achievement of ERR

As ERR is part of the Apprentice Certificate Claim Form, there is no longer a requirement to evidence ERR completion when applying for apprenticeship certificates. However, we recommend that an internal record of ERR achievement is retained. |

Employee rights and responsibilities

Please note that for Apprenticeship starts from 14/10/2016 onwards ERR is no longer a mandatory requirement in all frameworks.

However, it may still be included in some frameworks and where it is not explicitly stated that ERR is not a requirement then confirmation of an Apprentice's ERR achievement will still remain a requirement for Apprenticeship certification purposes.

Is ERR a requirement for this framework? YES NO

Delivery and assessment

The Employee Rights and Responsibilities component of the apprenticeship can be achieved through either:

1. A ERR Qualification/Unit:

- The L/506/1905 Employee rights and responsibilities unit - this is an optional unit included within the combined qualification
- The Level 2 Award in Employee Rights and Responsibilities - this qualification is offered by a range of organisations
- Any other approved unit or qualification listed in Instructus Skills FAQ (formerly Skills CFA)

2. ERR Workbook:

- The Instructus Skills (formerly Skills CFA) ERR workbook, available from the Instructus Skills E-learning portal (elearning.instructus.org) - The workbook has been designed to enable apprentices to work their way through a series of questions and activities which will bring ERR to life, making the learning more meaningful and long lasting and enhance the employability skills of the apprentice.

ERR National Outcomes

1. knows and understands the range of employer and employee statutory rights and responsibilities under Employment Law. This should cover the apprentice's rights and responsibilities under the Employment Rights Act 1996, Equality Act 2010, and Health and Safety legislation, together with the responsibilities and duties of employers;

2. knows and understands the procedures and documentation in their organisation which recognise and protect their relationship with their employer. Health & Safety and Equality & Diversity training must be an integral part of the apprentice's learning programme;
3. knows and understands the range of sources of information and advice available to them on their employment rights and responsibilities. Details of Access to Work and Additional Learning Support must be included in the programme
4. understands the role played by their occupation within their organisation and industry;
5. has an informed view of the types of career pathways that are open to them;
6. knows the types of representative bodies and understands their relevance to their skill, trade or occupation, and their main roles and responsibilities;
7. knows where and how to get information and advice on their industry, occupation, training and career;
8. can describe and work within their organisation's principles of conduct and codes of practice;
9. recognises and can form a view on issues of public concern that affect their organisation and industry.

Evidence of achievement of ERR

As ERR is part of the Apprentice Certificate Claim Form, there is no longer a requirement to evidence ERR completion when applying for apprenticeship certificates. However, we recommend that an internal record of ERR achievement is retained.

Progression routes into and from this pathway

Progression routes into the Business Administration Apprenticeship:

Progression into this apprenticeship may be from a wide number of routes due to the varying backgrounds and past academic and work related experiences of apprentices. Such routes will including having:

- achieved a Level 2 Foundation Apprenticeship in Business Administration
- achieved Regulatory Qualification Awards, Certificates or Diplomas
- achieved one of the Principal Learning Qualifications as part of the Welsh Bacallaureate for Business Administration and Finance, IT, Retail Business or Public Services
- achieved GCSEs or A Levels.

Learners may also progress into the advanced apprenticeship without prior qualifications.

Most learners progressing into the Business Administration Apprenticeship have some prior experience in a business or administration job role, although this is not a formal requirement. Learners who do not have any prior experience in a business or administration job role may be better suited to the Business Administration foundation Apprenticeship, although all individuals should be judged on their own merits, experiences and capabilities.

Progression from the Apprenticeship in Business Administration

Apprentices, with support and opportunities in the workplace, can progress onto:

- the Level 4 Higher Apprenticeship in Business & Professional Administration
- further or higher education to undertake business related or other qualifications, including Foundation Degrees in areas such as business, business management, and business

UCAS points for this pathway:

Employee rights and responsibilities

Please note that for Apprenticeship starts from 14/10/2016 onwards ERR is no longer a mandatory requirement in all frameworks.

However, it may still be included in some frameworks and where it is not explicitly stated that ERR is not a requirement then confirmation of an Apprentice's ERR achievement will still remain a requirement for Apprenticeship certification purposes.

Is ERR a requirement for this framework? YES NO

Delivery and assessment

The Employee Rights and Responsibilities component of the apprenticeship can be achieved through either:

1. A ERR Qualification/Unit:

- The L/506/1905 Employee rights and responsibilities unit - this is an optional unit included within the combined qualification
- The Level 2 Award in Employee Rights and Responsibilities - this qualification is offered by a range of organisations
- Any other approved unit or qualification listed in Instructus Skills FAQ (formerly Skills CFA)

2. ERR Workbook:

- The Instructus Skills (formerly Skills CFA) ERR workbook, available from the Instructus Skills E-learning portal (elearning.instructus.org) - The workbook has been designed to enable apprentices to work their way through a series of questions and activities which will bring ERR to life, making the learning more meaningful and long lasting and enhance the employability skills of the apprentice.

ERR National Outcomes

1. knows and understands the range of employer and employee statutory rights and responsibilities under Employment Law. This should cover the apprentice's rights and responsibilities under the Employment Rights Act 1996, Equality Act 2010, and Health and Safety legislation, together with the responsibilities and duties of employers;
2. knows and understands the procedures and documentation in their organisation which recognise and protect their relationship with their employer. Health & Safety and Equality & Diversity training must be an integral part of the apprentice's learning programme;
3. knows and understands the range of sources of information and advice available to them on their employment rights and responsibilities. Details of Access to Work and Additional Learning Support must be included in the programme

4. understands the role played by their occupation within their organisation and industry;
5. has an informed view of the types of career pathways that are open to them;
6. knows the types of representative bodies and understands their relevance to their skill, trade or occupation, and their main roles and responsibilities;
7. knows where and how to get information and advice on their industry, occupation, training and career;
8. can describe and work within their organisation's principles of conduct and codes of practice;
9. recognises and can form a view on issues of public concern that affect their organisation and industry.

Evidence of achievement of ERR

As ERR is part of the Apprentice Certificate Claim Form, there is no longer a requirement to evidence ERR completion when applying for apprenticeship certificates. However, we recommend that an internal record of ERR achievement is retained.

Progression routes into and from this pathway

Progression into the Legal Administration Apprenticeship:

Progression into this apprenticeship may be from a wide number of routes due to the varying backgrounds and past academic and work related experiences of apprentices. Such routes will include having:

- achieved a Level 2 Foundation Apprenticeship in Business & Administration (Legal Administration)
- achieved Regulatory Qualification Awards, Certificates or Diplomas
- achieved one of the Principal Learning Qualifications as part of the Welsh Baccalaureate for Business Administration and Finance, IT, Retail Business or Public Services
- achieved GCSEs or A Levels.

Learners may also progress into the apprenticeship without prior qualifications.

Most learners progressing into the Legal Administration Apprenticeship have some prior experience in a business or legal administration job role, although this is not a formal requirement. Learners who do not have any prior experience in a business or legal administration job role may be better suited to the Legal Administration Foundation Apprenticeship, although all individuals should be judged on their own merits, experiences and capabilities.

Progression from this Apprenticeship in Business and Administration

Apprentices, with support and opportunities in the workplace, can progress onto:

- the Level 4 Higher Apprenticeship in Business & Professional Administration
- further and higher education to undertake business related or other qualifications, including foundation degrees in areas such as business and business management, paralegal services/studies and legal advice
- a range of business and law and other undergraduate programmes
- a range of business and legal professional qualifications at level 4 and above

With additional training, advanced apprentices may be able to progress in their careers to roles including legal practice manager, senior legal secretary, office manager or a wide range of managerial roles within business administration.

UCAS points for this pathway:

Employee rights and responsibilities

Please note that for Apprenticeship starts from 14/10/2016 onwards ERR is no longer a mandatory requirement in all frameworks.

However, it may still be included in some frameworks and where it is not explicitly stated that ERR is not a requirement then confirmation of an Apprentice's ERR achievement will still remain a requirement for Apprenticeship certification purposes.

Is ERR a requirement for this framework? YES NO

Delivery and assessment

The Employee Rights and Responsibilities component of the apprenticeship can be achieved through either:

1. A ERR Qualification/Unit:

- The L/506/1905 Employee rights and responsibilities unit - this is an optional unit included within the combined qualification
- The Level 2 Award in Employee Rights and Responsibilities - this qualification is offered by a range of organisations
- Any other approved unit or qualification listed in Instructus Skills FAQ (formerly Skills CFA)

2. ERR Workbook:

- The Instructus Skills (formerly Skills CFA) ERR workbook, available from the Instructus Skills E-learning portal (elearning.instructus.org) - The workbook has been designed to enable apprentices to work their way through a series of questions and activities which will bring ERR to life, making the learning more meaningful and long lasting and enhance the employability skills of the apprentice.

ERR National Outcomes

1. knows and understands the range of employer and employee statutory rights and responsibilities under Employment Law. This should cover the apprentice's rights and responsibilities under the Employment Rights Act 1996, Equality Act 2010, and Health and Safety legislation, together with the responsibilities and duties of employers;
2. knows and understands the procedures and documentation in their organisation which recognise and protect their relationship with their employer. Health & Safety and Equality & Diversity training must be an integral part of the apprentice's learning programme;
3. knows and understands the range of sources of information and advice available to them on their employment rights and responsibilities. Details of Access to Work and Additional Learning Support must be included in the programme
4. understands the role played by their occupation within their organisation and industry;
5. has an informed view of the types of career pathways that are open to them;
6. knows the types of representative bodies and understands their relevance to their skill, trade or occupation, and their main roles and responsibilities;
7. knows where and how to get information and advice on their industry, occupation, training and career;
8. can describe and work within their organisation's principles of conduct and codes of practice;
9. recognises and can form a view on issues of public concern that affect their organisation and industry.

Evidence of achievement of ERR

As ERR is part of the Apprentice Certificate Claim Form, there is no longer a requirement to evidence ERR completion when applying for apprenticeship certificates. However, we recommend that an internal record of ERR achievement is retained.

Level 3, Pathway 3: Medical Administration

Description of this pathway

Relationship between competence and knowledge qualifications

Apprentices must complete one competence qualification and one knowledge qualification from those listed within this pathway.

The Level 4 Diploma in Business Administration (C1 - C2) provides the competence required by business and administration service professionals at this level. The different knowledge based qualifications available (K1 - K9) all have slightly different emphasis and breadth of knowledge, although all qualifications will provide learners with the required underpinning knowledge and understanding to successfully demonstrate competence. The selection of the competence and knowledge qualification is a decision to be made by employers and the apprentice, based on the individual learner's job role and needs.

Learners are free to undertake the competence qualification with one awarding organisation and the knowledge qualification with another awarding organisation if they wish to do so.

You may need to supply the evidence requirements for Apprenticeship Completion certification if requested to do so by ACW.

Progression routes into and from this pathway

Progression into the Business & Professional Administration Higher Apprenticeship

Progression into this higher apprenticeship may be from a wide number of routes due to the varying backgrounds and past academic and work related experiences of apprentices. Such routes will including having:

- achieved an apprenticeship in a wide range of sector specific areas
- achieved the Level 3 Apprenticeship in Business Administration
- achieved Regulatory Qualification Awards, Certificates or Diplomas in business or sector specific areas
- achieved GCSEs or A Levels.

Learners may also progress into the higher apprenticeship without prior qualifications.

It is expected that higher apprentices will have significant experience of working in a business role to ensure they have the suitable foundations on which to further build their knowledge and skills. Learners who do not have any experience of working in a business role may be better suited to the Business Administration Foundation Apprenticeship. Learners who have only limited prior experience in a business role may be better suited to the Business Administration Apprenticeship. All individuals should be judged on their own merits, experiences and capabilities to ensure they are enrolled in the most appropriate apprenticeship framework.

Progression from the Higher Apprenticeship in Business & Professional Administration

Higher apprentices, with support and opportunities in the workplace, can progress onto:

- the Level 5 Higher Apprenticeship in Leadership & Management
- further or higher education to undertake business related or other qualifications, including foundation degrees in areas such as business, business management, and business administration
- a range of business and management undergraduate programmes
- a range of business or management professional qualifications at level 5 and above
- further employment opportunities within their current job role/alternative job roles
- specialised qualifications providing additional technical knowledge
- possible membership of professional bodies.

With additional training, higher apprentices may be able to progress in their careers to roles including operations director, business development manager, company secretary or a wide range of managerial roles within business.

How equality and diversity will be met

Although there are no statistics specifically covering Business Administration Apprenticeship ethnicity and diversity in Wales, a recent Institute for Employment Studies report suggests the apprenticeship is heavily dominated by female starters, whilst the ethnicity of apprentices is generally reflective of the population as a whole.

Possible reasons for the gender imbalance within the apprenticeship are related to perceptions, including the perception that administrative careers are mainly for women.

As the workforce and the customer base become more diverse, business and administration needs to reflect that diversity and manage it effectively. This requires not only sensitivity to issues such as ethnicity, culture, gender and disability, but a greater awareness of the potential for different and more creative approaches that diversity in general brings to the business.

In order to counteract some of these issues, awareness of business administration as a profession is being raised through:

- the Welsh Baccalaureate through the Principal Learning Qualifications in Business, Administration and Finance, IT and Public Services
- teaching resources for schools.

Apprenticeships are seen as a vital route to encourage, and facilitate, a greater diversity of individuals into business and administration. Entry conditions into this framework do not discriminate against any individuals, with the framework being open and accessible to all potential apprentices. Mentoring is also promoted within the apprenticeship to provide additional support and increase the chances of apprentices staying. Training providers and employers must comply with the Equality Act 2010 to ensure that applicants are not discriminated against in terms of entry to and promotion within the industry, using the protected characteristics of:

- age
- disability
- gender reassignment
- marriage and civil partnership
- pregnancy and maternity
- race
- religion or belief
- gender
- sexual orientation.

Instructus Skills continues to monitor take up and achievement of all apprenticeships through its advisory groups and will continue to take steps to address any barriers to take up and achievement as part of its Qualification Strategy.

How this requirement will be met

On-the job training is defined as skills, knowledge and competence gained within normal work duties.

These hours may vary depending on previous experience and attainment of the apprentice. Where a learner enters an Apprenticeship agreement having previously attained or acquired the appropriate competencies or knowledge, this prior learning needs to be recognised and documented using the relevant Regulatory Qualification credit transfer, Regulatory Qualification exemption or RPL procedures (as off-the-job above). The amount of on-the-job training required to complete the Apprenticeship under the Apprenticeship agreement may then be reduced accordingly, provided the total number of on-the-job hours for this framework can be verified for Apprenticeship certification.

Apprentices who commence training under a new Apprenticeship agreement with a new employer may bring a range of prior experience with them. When an apprentice can claim 25% or more hours towards the on-the-job framework total through prior learning acquired from previous full-time education, employment or other vocational programmes, then the apprentice's learning programme should include 'customisation'.

Training providers are encouraged to identify additional on-the-job training programmes that customise the learning to the new workplace. Customisation programmes may include:

- Selecting appropriate additional Unit(s) from Regulatory Qualification qualifications, or relevant units recognised as Quality Assured Lifelong Learning [QALL] through a Regulatory Qualification recognised body
- Following Essential Skills at a level higher than that specified in the framework including one or more Wider Key Skills or other competency-based qualifications/units relevant to the workplace.

For apprentices who have already achieved the relevant qualifications, they must have been certificated within 5 years from the date of application for the Foundation Apprenticeship/Apprenticeship Certificate or have been continuously employed in the industry for three years. Job roles within Business & Administration require a thorough level of technical competence and knowledge, which will be undertaken through work-based training, practice and experience.

On-the-job learning must be formally recorded, either in a diary, workbook, portfolio, or be verified by attendance records. This evidence needs to be checked and signed by the learner and assessor.

Evidence of on the job training hours

The Apprenticeship Certificate Claim Form requires apprentices to acknowledge that they have received the minimum required levels of on the job and off the job training, as set out in the apprenticeship framework document. No other evidence is required to be uploaded to ACW.]

Wider key skills assessment and recognition

While Wider Key Skills are not a mandatory part of the framework, training providers are encouraged to provide apprentices the opportunity to achieve them.
