Proposer of this framework

This framework was developed in Wales by employers in the Hospitality and Catering sector who worked closely with People 1st on its development. The need for an apprenticeship framework at levels 2 and 3 has been identified through the sector qualifications strategy. The framework was proposed to develop a standardised, formalised, nationally recognised training programme, a nationally recognised career pathway and to address some of the skills, recruitment and retention issues in the sector. The level 3 apprenticeship also enables progression from the level 2 apprenticeship.

The pathway for Chefs in the Licensed Hospitality Industry has been developed by BIIAB with an industry steering group composed of the following organisations:

Spirit Pub Company
Greene King
Fredric Robinson brewery
British Beer and Pub Association
Charnwood Training
Punch Taverns
Hall and Woodhouse Brewery

The pathway has been included following feedback from industry partners and learners that a licensed industry Chef specific pathway was needed to cover the fundamental issues that related to the job roles.

The Hospitality Retail Outlet Supervision has been added following a review with industry partners and learning providers and will cover those aspiring to or working as team leaders or supervisors in hospitality retail outlets.

Purpose of this framework

Summary of the purpose of the framework

The Hospitality and Catering Industry covers hotels, restaurants, pubs, bars and nightclubs, contract catering, hospitality services, youth/backpacker hostels, holiday centres and self-catering accommodation. It operates across well-known chains and in small businesses, including owner/operators, which make up just under three quarters of employers. The industry is a big employer, with the restaurant industry alone employing two thirds of a million people.

Hospitality is part of the wider leisure, travel and tourism sector which needs to recruit 40,100 managers, chefs, waiting and bar staff and catering assistants in Wales by the year 2017 to replace those who leave or retire. The Industry is facing a number of key challenges to make sure that staff have the right skills and, once trained, that they stay and develop their skills to fulfil their career ambitions, contributing to increased productivity and business profitability.

*although the industry is well known for providing training, only 3% of the training leads to formal qualifications which are nationally recognised and this is likely to have had an impact on staff motivation and retention;

- the Industry finds it difficult to attract people who have the right skills for the job, mainly because there is a perception that the sector provides casual jobs, but does not offer long-term career opportunities. This leads to high staff turnover and increased costs on the business to replace those who leave or retire;
- whilst the industry employs a high percentage of young staff and the average age of a manager is under 30 years old in parts of the industry, over half of these managers do not have formal qualifications for their job;
- chef skills are in short supply, with increasing consumer demand for meals which are cooked from scratch using fresh ingredients in mainstream restaurants and pubs and specialist skills for those working in Asian and Oriental cuisines;
- the Industry relies on excellent customer service to provide a welcoming and pleasant experience for customers and these skills need to be improved so that customers continue to come back;
- the Hospitality and Catering Industry needs to make the most of the talent pool in order to represent its customer base, by attracting more males into front of house and housekeeping roles.

Apprenticeships are seen as critical by employers, as they provide a ready-made high quality programme which they have helped to design and which gives them the skills they need. By providing nationally recognised qualifications, employability skills and a career route into management, staff are more likely to be more motivated to stay, helping businesses to increase productivity and remain profitable.

We have consulted with employers and partners who indicated that ICT would be relevant to the non-food pathway in the Hospitality Services level 2 route and at level 3 for the Hospitality Supervision and Leadership route only. However, they would be looking for something that would be compatible with their in house systems, otherwise it would not be seen as relevant. ICT is not directly relevant to effective performance to the food pathways due to the nature of the jobs and the fact that they may not use computer systems in their role.

It was therefore felt that the ICT transferable skill should not be included in the apprenticeship programme.

Apprentices at level 2 work in a range of jobs including multi skilled roles in hospitality services where they will be an all-rounder or specialise in housekeeping and front of house reception or can train as waiters/silver service waiters and bar person. Kitchen assistants, cooks and chefs will work in a range of large and small kitchens including the NHS, Armed Services and schools, fast food outlets and restaurants offering a variety of cuisines and fine dining, including Asian and Oriental cuisines.

At level 3 there are opportunities to work as a Sous Chef or Senior Chef or specialise in pastry and confectionery. Those apprentices completing a level 3 in professional cookery will also have the opportunity to progress to the level 4 in Professional Cuisine ensuring a complete career progression pathway to the top of the profession. The Hospitality Supervision and Leadership pathway provides training to become Head Housekeeper, Head Receptionist, Hotel Manager or a supervisor/manager in a restaurant or pub chain. The Hospitality Retail Outlet Supervision pathway provides training to become a team leader or supervisor of a hospitality retail outlet.

This Apprenticeship builds on the success of the previous apprenticeship, by updating the qualifications to respond to the changing expectations of customers, addressing the skills needs of employers and meets the requirements of the new Specification for Apprenticeship Standards in Wales. The framework will also contribute to meeting the skills priorities for Wales by:

- providing flexible access to a high quality Level 2, 3 and 4 skills programme, as a real alternative to academic qualifications , for those who prefer this style of learning and achievement;
- incorporating skills to improve the levels of general literacy, numeracy in Wales;
- using technical and competence qualifications, valued by employers, to help their businesses grow;
- developing Apprentice's employability skills, making them more attractive to all employers whichever career they choose;
- providing a career pathway into jobs and training at intermediate and higher level, to provide the skills which the economy needs to grow;
- building on the existing quality learning provision for the Hospitality and Catering Industry in Wales.

- providing a distinct career progression ladder to the top of the industry profession.

Aims and objectives of this framework (Wales)

Aim of the framework

The aim of this framework is to attract new people into Hospitality and Catering in Wales, from a wide range of backgrounds to replace those who leave or retire and to provide employers with the chef, customer service, team working, employability and management and leadership skills they need to help increase productivity and profitability.

Objectives of this framework are to:

1. contribute to increasing productivity and performance by ensuring that staff have chef, customer service, team working, employability, management and leadership skills;
2. provide a flexible entry route to attract and retain people in the Hospitality and Catering Industry in Wales from under-represented groups, to ensure that the industry represents its customer base;
3. provide small businesses in Wales with access to a high quality training programme to help their businesses remain profitable;
4. contribute towards professionalising the Industry by providing career pathways to jobs at level 4 and higher to aid retention and to fill management and leadership skills gaps.

Entry conditions for this framework

Employers wish to attract as wide a range of people as possible. This is why there are no specific requirements to have completed any prior qualifications. However, they are particularly interested in those who have a keen interest in providing excellent customer service and in working as part of a team, have a “can do attitude” and have high standards of personal hygiene.

Applicants will need basic communication skills on which this apprenticeship will build, be excellent timekeepers and be willing to work unsociable hours, in often hot, busy and noisy premises.

Other conditions:

Some pathways may require serving of alcohol.

Chefs in the Licensed Hospitality Industry apprentices must be aged 16 or over.

For Hospitality Retail Outlet Supervision at level 3 then it is expected that apprentices will have:-

- * At least nine months experience of working in the hospitality industry, OR
- Completion of a level 2 apprenticeship in hospitality

Initial Assessment

Training providers and employers will use initial assessment to ensure that applicants have a fair opportunity to demonstrate their ability and to tailor programmes to meet individual needs, recognising prior qualifications and experience.

Proxies and Relaxations

Processes exist to make sure that applicants with prior knowledge, qualifications and experience are not disadvantaged by having to repeat learning. Training providers and awarding organisations will be able to advise on the current rules for accrediting prior learning and recognising prior experience. Refer to the on and off the job training section for guidance about prior attainment and achievement. In the meantime, this is a short summary:

There are no relaxations or proxies for any qualifications specified in a framework in SASW, however, providers are encouraged to identify additional on-the-job training programmes that customise the learning to the new workplace.

1. Essential Skills Wales.

These changes relate to the Essential Skills and Employer Rights and Responsibilities

Functional Skills or Key Skills numeracy qualifications in Mathematics provided the proxy qualification(s) attained are at Level 2 or above.

2. Knowledge qualifications.

If applicants already have one of the Level 2 KNOWLEDGE qualifications before they started their Apprenticeship, (see knowledge qualifications page in this framework) they can count this and do not have to redo the qualification, providing that they have achieved this qualification within three years of applying for the apprenticeship certificate. For example they may have already achieved the KNOWLEDGE element as part of the Welsh Baccalaureate. The hours they spent gaining this qualification will also count towards the minimum hours required for this framework.

3. Competence qualifications.

If applicants already have the Level 2 COMPETENCE qualification for the Apprenticeship they do not have to repeat this qualification, however, this qualification must have been achieved within three years of applying for the apprenticeship certificate and they will still have to demonstrate competence in the workplace.

4. Prior experience.

Applicants already working in the sector will be able to have their prior experience recognised by the Awarding Organisation and this will count towards the competence and the knowledge qualifications in this framework.

Initial Assessment

Training providers and employers will use initial assessment to ensure that applicants have a fair opportunity to demonstrate their ability and to tailor programmes to meet individual needs, recognising prior qualifications and experience.]

Employee rights and responsibilities

Please note that for Apprenticeship starts from 14/10/2016 onwards ERR is no longer a mandatory requirement in all frameworks.

However, it may still be included in some frameworks and where it is not explicitly stated that ERR is not a requirement then confirmation of an Apprentice's ERR achievement will still remain a requirement for Apprenticeship certification purposes.

Is ERR a requirement for this framework? YES ☒ NO ☐

Delivery and assessment

DELIVERY AND ASSESSMENT OF ERR

ERR Delivery

The ERR unit (T/601/7214 - Employment Rights and Responsibilities in the Hospitality, Leisure, Travel and Tourism sector) is included in the competence based qualification for all pathways and is a mandatory part of this framework.

The nine national outcomes/standards for ERR require the apprentice to:

- Know and understand employment law and legislation that may affect their work. This includes discrimination, equality, health and safety and knowing what the employer's responsibilities and duties are
- Know and understand procedures and documentation within their organisation, which recognise and protect their working relationships. This includes health and safety and equality and diversity
- Know and understand the range or sources of information and advice available to them, including Access to Work and Additional Learning and Support
- Understand the role their organisation plays in the industry
- Have an informed view of the different career pathways/opportunities available to them
- Know the types of representative bodies or organisations and their relevance to their employment/industry
- Know where and how to get information and advice on their industry, occupation, training and career
- Work within their organisation's principles and codes of practice
- Recognise issues that may be of public concern that could affect their organisation and/or industry

The apprentice's induction is an important way of meeting some of the ERR requirements and apprentices must cover health and safety at the beginning of the Apprenticeship.

Recording

Providers must ensure that apprentices use an awarding organisation portfolio of evidence to record where and how they have learned about ERR.

Evidence of ERR

The ERR unit is contained within the competence qualification for all pathways; therefore, evidence for this will be the certificate for this qualification. The competence certificate must be submitted to People 1st when applying for an Apprenticeship completion certificate, together with a signed completion certificate claim form. This can be downloaded directly from ACW: <https://acwcerts.co.uk/web/apprentice-application-form>

Employee rights and responsibilities

Please note that for Apprenticeship starts from 14/10/2016 onwards ERR is no longer a mandatory requirement in all frameworks.

However, it may still be included in some frameworks and where it is not explicitly stated that ERR is not a requirement then confirmation of an Apprentice's ERR achievement will still remain a requirement for Apprenticeship certification purposes.

Is ERR a requirement for this framework? YES ☒ NO ☐

Delivery and assessment

ERR Delivery

The nine outcomes for ERR are embedded in the competence based qualification for this pathway – (T/601/7214 – Employment rights and responsibilities in the Hospitality, Leisure, Travel and Tourism sector).

The apprentice's induction is an important way of meeting some of the ERR requirements and apprentices must cover health and safety at the beginning of the Apprenticeship.

Recording

Providers must ensure that apprentices use an awarding organisation portfolio of evidence to record where and how they have learned about ERR.

Evidence of ERR

The ERR unit is contained within the competence-based qualification for all pathways, therefore, evidence for this will be the certificate for this qualification with the ERR unit listed on the certificate as having been completed. The competence certificate must be submitted to People 1st when applying for an Apprenticeship completion certificate, together with a signed declaration form. From 19th December 2013, providers should upload Version 3 of the ACE Apprenticeship Declaration and Authorisation form as part of the certification process.

This can be downloaded directly from ACE:

The remaining sections apply to all levels and pathways within this framework.

How equality and diversity will be met

The Hospitality and Catering Industry is perceived as offering casual work which does not offer long-term career opportunities. This has resulted in a workforce which is transient and view parts of the industry as a temporary stop gap before moving on to other careers.

Age of the workforce

The hospitality industry employs a young workforce, with those working as waiting staff and bar staff tending to be under 30. This is likely to be due to it not being seen as a career choice – some younger employees are doing the job as a 'fill in' until they find something they see as more permanent. The sector also has a high number of students as the hours and lifestyle suit them.

The food and service management, hospitality services and self-catering accommodation/holiday centre industries operate with a slightly different age profile of workers with over half of their workforces being over the age of 40. This is due to the industry employing people who tend to stay for longer. The classic case is dinner ladies who often remain in that occupation for a long time. With self-catering accommodation/holiday centres, which includes B&Bs, 20% of the workforce is over 60 across the UK. These are often run as a 'lifestyle choice' for older people who may have retired from another industry.

Those working in management roles tend to be older, particularly hotel and accommodation, (as there is a trend for supervisors and managers to be promoted from within the industry after they have had experience. A relatively high proportion of managers of licensed premises and restaurant and catering managers are under the age of 30 and this is perhaps due to the high turnover rates in these industries – so many people leave that those that actually stay have a relative wealth of experience and therefore get promoted quickly.

Gender

Some areas of food and service management in particular attract female workers who may be returning to the workplace after having children and find that the flexible work patterns are convenient to fit around family commitments. For hospitality managers (i.e. hotel and accommodation managers, conference and exhibition managers, restaurant and catering managers, publicans and managers of licensed premises) the split is roughly 50:50 male to female in the UK.

Ethnicity

The sector as a whole is generally representative of the multicultural society in which we live, and has provided perhaps more opportunities for ethnic minorities to achieve economic success than most sectors. There may be a perception that we can only eat food that has been cooked and served by someone from that ethnic background.

Specific industries vary in terms of Black and Minority Ethnic (BME) employees with restaurants employing the highest proportion of BME workers (27%) but only 5% in pubs, bar and nightclubs. Reasons for this low take up are varied and could include the working hours required in this sector.

Profile of Apprentices

Of those Apprentices starting the framework at levels 2 and 3 every year in Wales male/female Apprentices were a 50/50 balance.

Actions to redress imbalances in the workforce

Our Apprenticeship Strategy includes raising awareness of the Hospitality and Catering Apprenticeships and careers in the industry. The aim is to encourage a wider range of applicants and to support them whilst they are training and includes:

- raising awareness in schools through the Welsh Baccalaureate Principal Learning Qualifications in Hospitality
- www.hospitalityguild.co.uk (the People 1st online site containing information on jobs, careers and training in the sector) - the intention is that this will allow People 1st to track progress throughout the programme which may result in intervention to ensure the provider, employer or apprentice is given access to support
- identifying employer champions [including Charles Prew, Chief Executive of Barceló Hotels)
- promoting Apprenticeship Awards to both providers and employers delivering the programme in the sector
- producing a step-by-step guide to setting up an Apprenticeship Programme aimed at employers
- DVD highlighting the benefits of an Apprenticeship to both employers and learners

- working with employers and learning providers to develop case studies highlighting the Apprenticeship and its benefits which have been promoted via our website, external websites, events and external newsletters..

Apprenticeships are seen as a vital route to attract a greater diversity of individuals into the industry, therefore, entry conditions to this framework have been made extremely flexible and mentoring has been included to offer additional support to increase the chances of apprentices achieving the framework and staying with the employer. Four new pathways have been introduced aimed at chefs, cooks and kitchen and catering assistants working in Bangladeshi, Chinese, Indian and Thai cuisines to provide the skills and knowledge that are specific to those sectors.

Training providers and employers MUST comply with the Equality Act 2010 to ensure that applicants are not discriminated against in terms of entry to and promotion within, the Industry, using the 9 protected characteristics of:

1. Age
2. Disability
3. Gender
4. Gender reassignment
5. Marriage and civil partnerships
6. Pregnancy and maternity
7. Race
8. Religion and Belief
9. Sexual orientation

People 1st will monitor take up and achievement of all Apprenticeships through its internal vocational policy team and the chain employer group and take steps to address any barriers to take up and achievement as part of our Sector Qualifications Strategy.

Off-the-job training

Off-the job training is defined as time for learning activities away from normal work duties. For this framework the amount of off-the-job training is as follows:

LEVEL 2:

- Pathway 1: Hospitality Services: 225 hours
- Pathway 2: Food and Beverage Services: 211 hours
- Pathway 3: Food Production and Cooking: 218 hours
- Pathway 4: Professional Cookery: 268 hours

- Pathway 2: Patisserie and Confectionery: 389 hours
- Pathway 3: Hospitality Supervision and Leadership: 198 hours
- Pathway 4; Hospitality Retail Outlet Supervision: 240 hours

How this requirement will be met

Training hours delivered under an apprenticeship agreement may vary depending on the previous experience and attainment of the apprentice.

The amount of off-the-job training required to complete the apprenticeship under the apprenticeship agreement may then be reduced accordingly, provided the total number of off-the-job hours for this framework can be verified for apprenticeship certification.

Previous attainment

Where a learner enters an apprenticeship agreement having previously attained parts or all of the relevant qualifications, this prior learning needs to be recognised using either QCF credit transfer for achievements within the QCF; or through recording of exemptions for certificated learning outside of the QCF, for example Principal Learning qualifications. For apprentices who have already achieved the relevant qualifications, they must have been certificated within three years of applying for the Foundation Apprenticeship Certificate.

Previous experience

Where a learner enters an apprenticeship agreement with previous work-related experience, this prior learning needs to be recognised [see QCF Guidance on Claiming Credit for further details]. To count towards apprenticeship certification, previous experience must be recorded using the appropriate Awarding Organisation's QCFW 'Recognition of Prior Learning' (RPL) procedures and the hours recorded may then count towards the off-the-job hours required to complete the apprenticeship.

For apprentices with prior uncertificated learning experience, the off-the-job learning must have been acquired within three years of application for the Foundation Apprenticeship Certificate or have been continuously employed in the relevant job role in the industry for three years duration.

Off-the-job training needs to:

- be planned, reviewed and evaluated jointly between the apprentice and a tutor, teacher, mentor or manager;
- allow access as and when required by the apprentice either to a tutor, teacher, mentor or manager;
- be delivered during contracted working hours;
- be delivered through one or more of the following methods: individual and group teaching, e-learning, distance learning, coaching; mentoring, feedback and assessment; collaborative/networked learning with peers, guided study and induction.
- mentoring often increases the chances of apprentices completing the programme, therefore, as a guide, it is recommended that about one hour a week is included, although some apprentices will need more time at the beginning of the programme and less time as they progress.

Off-the-job training must be formally recorded, either in a diary, workbook, portfolio, or be verified by attendance records. This evidence needs to be checked and signed by the assessor and employer.

How this requirement will be met:

Level 2:

- Pathway 1: Hospitality Services: 105 hours for the knowledge qualification and 120 for the two Essential Skills Wales
- Pathway 2: Food and Beverage Services: 91 hours for the knowledge qualification and 120 for the two Essential Skills Wales
- Pathway 3: Food Production and Cooking: 98 hours for the knowledge qualification and 120 for the two Essential Skills Wales
- Pathway 4: Professional Cookery: 148 hours for the knowledge qualification and 120 for the two

Essential Skills Wales

- Pathway 5: Housekeeping: 97 hours for the knowledge qualification and 120 for the two Essential Skills Wales
- Pathway 6: Front of House Reception: 100 hours for the knowledge qualification and 120 for the two Essential Skills Wales
- Pathway 7: Chefs in the Licenced Hospitality Industry: 118 hours for the knowledge qualification, 120 for the two Essential Skills Wales and 40 for mentoring

Level 3:

- Pathway 1: Professional Cookery: 186 hours for the knowledge qualification and 120 for the two Essential Skills Wales
- Pathway 2: Patisserie and Confectionery: 269 hours for the knowledge qualification and 120 for the two Essential Skills Wales
- Pathway 3: Hospitality Supervision and Leadership: 78 hours for the knowledge qualification, 120 for the two Essential Skills Wales.
- Pathway 4: Hospitality Retail Outlet Supervision: 120 hours for the knowledge qualification, 120 for the two Essential Skills Wales.

Evidence of off the job hours at level 2 - all pathways (for the purposes of issuing an apprenticeship completion certificate):

- Level 2 knowledge certificate for the relevant pathway
- Level 1 Essential Skills Wales certificates for Communication and Application of Number

Evidence of off the job hours at level 3 - all pathways (for the purposes of issuing an apprenticeship completion certificate):

- Level 3 knowledge certificate for the relevant pathway
- Level 2 Essential Skills Wales certificates for Communication and Application of Number

On-the-job training

On-the job training is defined as skills, knowledge and competence gained within normal work duties. For this framework the amount of on-the-job training is as follows:

LEVEL 2 ON THE JOB HOURS

- Pathway 1: Hospitality Services: 266 hours
- Pathway 2: Food and Beverage Services: 266 hours
- Pathway 3: Food Production and Cooking: 309 hours
- Pathway 4: Professional Cookery: 454 hours
- Pathway 5: Housekeeping: 281 hours
- Pathway 6: Front of House Reception: 224 hours
- Pathway 7: Chefs in the Licenced Hospitality Industry: 285

LEVEL 3 - ON THE JOB HOURS

- Pathway 1: Professional Cookery: 360 hours

- Pathway 2: Patisserie and Confectionery: 354 hours
- Pathway 3: Hospitality Supervision and Leadership: 206 hours
- * Pathway 4: Hospitality Retail Outlet Supervision: 210

How this requirement will be met

These hours may vary depending on previous experience and attainment of the apprentice. Where a learner enters an apprenticeship agreement having previously attained or acquired the appropriate competencies or knowledge, this prior learning needs to be recognised and documented using the relevant QCF credit transfer, QCF exemption or RPL procedures (as off-the-job above).

The amount of on-the-job training required to complete the apprenticeship under the apprenticeship agreement may then be reduced accordingly, provided the total number of on-the-job hours for this framework can be verified for apprenticeship certification.

Apprentices who commence training under a new apprenticeship agreement with a new employer may bring a range of prior experience with them. When an apprentice comes with prior learning acquired from previous full-time education, employment or other vocational programmes, then the apprentice's learning programme should include 'customisation'.

Training providers are encouraged to identify additional on-the-job training programmes that customise the learning to the new workplace. Customisation programmes may include:

- * selecting appropriate additional Unit(s) from QCF qualifications, or relevant units recognised as Quality Assured Lifelong Learning [QALL] through a CQFW recognised body
- * following Essential Skills at a level higher than that specified in the framework
- * including one or more Wider Key Skills or other competency-based qualifications/units relevant to the workplace.

For apprentices who have already achieved the relevant qualifications, they must have been certificated within three years from the date of application for the Foundation Apprenticeship/Apprenticeship Certificate or have been continuously employed in the industry for three years. Job roles within Hospitality and Catering require a thorough level of technical competence and knowledge, which will be undertaken through work-based training, practice and experience.

On-the-job learning must be formally recorded, either in a diary, workbook, portfolio, or be verified by attendance records. This evidence needs to be checked and signed by the employer and provider. A sample of these records of hours may be requested by People 1st when applying for an apprenticeship completion certificate.

Evidence for on-the-job training hours (for the purposes of issuing an apprenticeship completion certificate):

LEVEL 2 APPRENTICESHIP

- Certificate for the level 2 competence qualification for the relevant pathway, which embeds ERR and shows this as having been completed (ERR should be listed as a unit on the certificate)

LEVEL 3 APPRENTICESHIP

- Certificate for the Level 3 competence qualification for the relevant pathway which embeds ERR
and shows this as having been completed (ERR should be listed as a unit on the certificate) |

Wider key skills assessment and recognition

While Wider Key Skills are not a mandatory part of the framework, training providers are encouraged to provide apprentices the opportunity to achieve them.

For this framework, there are natural opportunities for Wider Key Skills to be embedded within the mandatory units of the following qualifications:

[Enter Qualification Names]

Improving own learning and performance

Whilst employers consulted did not feel that this Wider Key Skill should be mandatory, the evidence for achievement of these Skills would naturally occur as part of the achievement of the competence, knowledge and Essential Skills Wales qualifications.

Providers are encouraged to introduce these Wider Key Skills as part of induction so that apprentices learn to recognise when they are achieving these Skills.

Working with others
